V1

D F#m
O sacred Head, now wounded, with grief and shame weighed down

D F#m
Now scornfully surrounded with thorns, Thine only crown;

G D G F#m
How pale art thou with anguish, with sore abuse and scorn!

D F#m
O How your face bares sorrow, which once was bright as morn!

INST: D-F#m-D-F#m

V2

D F#m
Men mock and taunt and jeer Thee, Thou noble countenance,

D F#m
Though mighty worlds shall fear Thee and flee before Thy glance.

G D G F#m
Grim death, with cruel rigor, hath robbed Thee of Thy life;

D F#m
Thus Thou hast lost Thy vigor, Thy strength in this sad strife.

CH

G D Em G D
You bled by our hands, You bled by our hands, You bled by our hands, You bled.

V3

D F#m
My burdens you have carried, My sin you have born,

D F#m
For it was my transgression which brought this woe, this scorn.

G D G F#m
I cast me down before Thee, wrath my rightful lot;

D F#m
But you have sweet mercy; Redeemer, by the cross
